DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, TO WIT:

BE IT REMEMBERED, That on the thirteenth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the forty-eighth, Peter Force, of the said District, has deposited in this office the title of a Book, the right whereof, he claims as author, in the words following, to wit:

"The National Calendar, and Annals of the United States; for 24. Vol. V. By Peter Force." 1824.

In conformity to the act of the Congress of the United States, entitled "An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of MAPS, CHARTS, and BOOKS, to the authors and proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned"—and also to the act, entitled "An act supplementary to an act, entitled 'An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of MAPS, CHARTS, and BOOKS, to the authors and proprietors of such copies during the times therein mentioned,' and extending the benefits thereof to the arts of designing, engraving, and etching historical and other PRINTS."

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, and affixed the public seal of my office, the day and year aforesaid.

EDMUND I LEE, Clerk of the District of Columbia

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR PAGES.

Respecting a part of the columns, any explanation is unnecessary. On the first page, for each month, the sixth column contains the equation of time to the nearest minute.
Sl. signifies Sun slow of clock;
Fa. Sun fast of clock.

The seventh; the Sun's declination in degrees and minutes for apparent noon at Greenwich, or 6 h. 52 m. in the morning at Wash-

The twelfth shows the time of high-water mark at Washington and Georgetown.

The last; the rising, setting, or southing of the 7 *'s, except when they are near the Sun. The setting of the star Regulus is then inserted in their stead.

1 TABLE for finding the time of High Water at the principal Ports and Harbours in North America, on the authority of Bowditch's Navigator, the Connecticut Register, &c.

N.B. The time of Moon's southing, in the Calendar pages, is the time of high-water at Brunswick, N. C. Hackinsack, N. J. Louisburgh, Polepels Island, and St. John's, N. F; and if to or from the same time, you add or subtract, as directed in the following Table, you will have the time of high water at all the named places. Those quantities of time, to which the letter A is prefixed, are to be added, all the others subtracted.

NATIONAL CALENDAR. 1824.

EXECUTIVE.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

JAMES MONROE, of Virginia, $25,000 per annum.

The President must be thirty-five years of age, fourteen years a resident of the United States, a natural born citizen, or a citizen at the time of the adoption of the Constitution. case of his removal, death, resignation, or inability, the duties of his office devolve on the Vice President : and, by act of the 1st March, 1793, in case of removal, death, resignation, or inability, both of President and Vice President, the President of the Senate pro tempore; and in case there shall be no President of the Senate, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives, for the time being, is to act as President. The legal title of this officer is The President of the United States; and he is, by the Constitution, Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the service of the United States. He receives embassadors and other public ministers; and it is his duty to take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He is empowered, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senators present, to make treaties; and, by and with the advice of a majority of the Senate, he appoints embassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers established by law, whose appointments are not otherwise provided for in the Constitution, and the appointment of whom, when for an inferior nature, is not vested by Congress in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments. He commissions all officers of the United States; and may grant reprieves and pardons, except in cases of impeachment. The compensation of the President is 25,000 dollars per annum, which cannot be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. His salary was fixed by act of 18th February, 1793. He, as well as the Vice President, is elected by Electors in the respective States, who are chosen as the Legislatures of the several States may provide. According to an act of Congress, of the 1st of March, 1792, the choice of these Electors must be made within thirty-four days preceding the first Wednesday of December, of the year in which an election of President and Vice President these place; and they must be equal in number to all the Senators and Representatives in Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, can be appointed an Elector. The votes for President and Vice President are given by the Electors on the first Wednesday of December, in every fourth year throughout the Union. The next election will take place on the first day of December next.

President of the United States.

The electors meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for President and Vice President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. They vote for President and Vice President separately, by distinct ballots. They make lists of the number of votes given, and of the persons voted for—which they transmit sealed to the seat of the general government, directed to the President of the Senate, who, in presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, opens all the Certificates, and the votes are counted. The person having the greatest number of votes for President, is duly elected, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed

If no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three, in the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose, immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes are taken by States, the Representation from each having one vote; a quorum for this purpose consists of a member or members from two thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States is necessary to a choice.

If the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice devolves upon them, before the fourth of March, next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death, or other constitutional disability of the President.

The period of service is four years; but there is no restriction as to re-election. There is, however, no instance of any President's having served for a longer time than eight years. If the offices of President and Vice President should both become vacant, it then becomes the duty of the Secretary of State to communicate information thereof to the Executive of each Vice-Preisdent of the United States.

State, and to cause the same to be published in at least one newspaper of every State, giving two months previous notice that Electors of President shall be appointed or chosen in the several States, within thirty-four days next preceding the first Wednesday in December ensuing; when the choice of President must proceed as usual. The ninth Presidential term will expire with the eighteenth Congsess, on the third of March, 1825.

Presidents since the adoption of the Constitution.

- 1. George Washington, of Virginia, from 1789 to 1797.
- 2. John Adams, of Massachusetts, from 1797 to 1810.
- 3. Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, from 1806 to 1809.
- 4. James Madison, of Virginia, from 1809 to 1817.
- 5. James Monroe, of Virginia, from 1817 to 1825.

VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

DANIEL D. TOMPKINS, of New-York, $5,000 per annum.

The Vice-President is, ex-officio president of the Senate; and as President of the Senate, in virtue of an act of the 8th of May, 1792, one of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. His salary, of 5,0 0 dollars per annum, is fixed by the act of 18th of February, 1793. The Vice President is not a member of the Cabinet. The ordinary duties of this officer is, to preside in the Senate of the United States. When he does not officiate in that station, his place is supplied by a President of the Senate pro tempore, who is chosen from the body of Senators by ballot, and receives additional compensation for his services.

The Vice President is elected in the same manner, at the same time, for the same term, and by the same electors as the President. But if no person has a majority of the whole number of electors, then from the two highest numbers in the list the Senate chooses the Vice President: a quorum for this purpose consists of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole is necessary to a choice.

No person, constitutionably ineligible to the office of President, is eligible to that of Vice President of the United States.]

Department of State. . Secretaries of State.

CONSULS OF THE U. STATES TO THE POWERS OF BARBARY.

[Consuls to Barbary are more of Diplomatic than Commercial Agents; not only as it regards their vocation, but also as it respects their compensation. They receive regular annual salaries; and their pay does not, in the least, depend on fees of any kind. There has been no change in this branch of the public service, during 1823.]

CONSULS AND COMMERCIAL AGENTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Consuls of the United States, generally so called, are, in effect, Agents for Commerce and Seamen; which latter denomination, for particular reasons, is given to some of this class of Public Officers. They receive no yearly salaries, (except at Paris and London, where they have an annual salary of $2,000;) and their compensation is derived from the fegs which are allowed by law. The amount of these fees depends, of course upon the state of foreign trade, which is perpetually fluctuating. Consuls of the United States, for commercial purposes, are regularly admitted and recognised, as to their official functions, in the ports of Christian Europe; but in the colonies of the European nations, agents for commerce and seamen mostly exercise the duties of their stations under courtesy, without any formal recognition; and, in some instances, from the jealousy of colonial policy, they have not been permitted to exercise them at all. In their public capacity, Consuls and Agents for Commerce and Seamen, are principally occupied in verifing, in different forms, the legality of the trade of the United States with foreign nations, and in relieving and sending home American Seamen, who, by accident or misfortune, are left destitute within the jurisdiction of their several consulates and agencies.]

COMMISSIONERS FOR BOUNDARIES.

[They are employed near the boundary line, and at such other places as they may adjourn to.]

Commissioners for Claims and Land Titles.

COMMISSIONERS FOR CLAIMS ON SPAIN.

These commissioners were appointed agreeably to the provisions of the Act of 3d March, 1821, "for carrying into execution the Treaty between the United States and Spain," and in compliance with the 11th Article of that Treaty.

By this treaty the United States exonerates Spain from certain demands against that government, by citizens of the United States, and agrees to satisfy claims of the description specified, to an amount not exceeding five millions of dollars.

The Board of Commissioners are required to sit at Washington. They are authorized to hear and examine, on oath, every question relative to said claims, and to receive all suitable and authentic testimony concerning the same. (The Spanish government to furnish all such documents and eludications as may be in their possession, for the adjustment of said claims.) All claims are to be decided upon within three years from the first sitting of the Board.

COMMISSIONERS FOR ASCERTAINING CLAIMS AND TITLES TO LAND IN THE TERRITORY OF FLORIDA.

The Commissioners for this purpose, were authorized by the act of Congress, of May 8th 1822; which law prescribes their powers and duties. They are required to open an office for the adjudication of claims at Pensacola, and at St. Augustine: they are authorized to appoint a Secretary, who must be acquainted with the Spanish Language; and they are required to forward to the Secretary of the Treasury a detail of their proceedings, to be submitted to Congress.

The same law authorizes the appointment of a Surveyor, whose duties, however, does not begin until the Commissioners have decided on the claims in West Florida. The surveyor may appoint deputies, and the surveys are made at the expense of the claimants, which expense is not to exceed four dollars a mile.

COMMISSIONERS AND ARBITRATORS UNDER THE ST. PETERS-BURG CONVENTION, OF JULY 12, 1822.

A difference of opinion having arisen between the Government of the United States, and that of Great Britian, relative to the true intent and meaning of the first Article of the Treaty of Ghent, of 24th December, 1814, the subject was, by the mutual consent of both parties, submitted to the Emperor of Russia, as arbitrator in the differences between the two powers. After having maturely weighed the observations exhibited on both sides, the following was communicated to the American and British Plenipotentiaries at St. Petersburg, on the 22d of April, 1822, as his imperial majesty's award.

The Emperor is of opinion:

"That the United States of America are entitled to a just indemnification, from Great Britian, for all private property carried away by the British forces; and as the question regards slaves more especially, for all such slaves as were carried away by the British forces, from the places and territories of which the restitution was stipulated by the treaty, in quitting the said places and territories.

"That the United States are entitled to consider as having been so carried away, all such slaves as may have been transported from the above mentioned territories on board of the British vessels within the waters of the said territories, and who, for this reason, have not been restored.

"But that, if there should be any American slaves who were carried away from territories, of which the first article of the treaty of Ghent has not stipulated the restitution to the United States, the United States are not to claim an indemnification for the said slaves."

The Emperor declares, besides, that he is ready to exercise the office of mediator, which has been conferred on him beforehand by the two states, in the negotiations which must ensue between them in consequence of the award which they have demanded.

Commissioners, &c. under St. Petersburg Convention.

conformity with this decision a Convention was concluded between the United States and Great Britian, at St. Petersburg, on the 12th of July, 1822, which provides that one Commissioner and one Arbitraror shall be appointed on the part of the United States, and one Commissioner and one Arbitrator, on the part of his Britannic majesty. The Commissioners and Arbitrators, are authorized to appoint a Secretary, and required to meet and hold their sittings as a Board in he City of Washington. All vacancies occurring in the Board, by death or otherwise, to be filled in the manner of he original appointment.

upon the first meeting of the Board, the two Governments hall not have agreed upon an average value to be allowed, or each slave, the Board shall proceed to examine testimony o as to fix an average value. If a majority of the Board hould not be able to agree upon such average, the evidence and proceedings shall be submitted to the minister or agent of the mediating power, accredited to the United States, whose claims to be admitted but such as are contained in a list to e furnished by the Secretary of State. His Britannic majesy engages to produce before the commissioners all the evience in the possession of his Government of the number of laves carried away; but the evidence so produced shall not o in bar of any claim, otherwise satisfactorily authenticated. It wo Commissioners are to examine and determine on all laims arising under the imperial decision: but, if the two Commissioners shall not agree, in any particular case, they hall draw by lot the name of one of the Arbitrators, who shall onsult with them, and the opinion of a majority of the three hall be the final decision; and the Arbitrator, while so actage, is vested with the same powers, and governed by the same ales, with the Commissioners.

Britannic majesty, engages to pay the sums awarded, as ademnification for slaves, or other property, in specie, withut deduction, at the time and place agreed upon by the comissioners; but no payments are to be made in less than welve months from the date of the ratification of the convenon, which took place, on the 10th of January, 1823: at hich time the compensation to the Commissioners and arbiatory was agreed upon; each are paid by their respective overnments; but all other expenses incurred by the Comission, the same being previously ascertained and allowed y a majority of the Board, to be paid by the two governments, intly.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

The office of Secretary of the Treasury was created by act the 2nd of September, 1789. He superintends all the fis concerns of the government, and, upon his own responsibili recommends to Congress measures for improving the con tion of the revenue. He holds his office at the will of President; is, by usage, a member of the Cabinet; and, officio, one of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. an act of Congress, of the 15th of May 1820, the Treas Department has been invested with extraordinary powers the recovery of public moneys not accounted for or withh by officers receiving them prior to such moneys' being p into the Treasury. Warrants of distress, in the nature executions upon judgements, are authorized upon certifications of balances from the first Comptroller, against principals a sureties in default : and the judges of the United States a by the same law, clothed with extensive chancery jurist tion, with a view of ameliorating any undue severity to in viduals, which may possibly occur under the warrants sides the disbursement of moneys for the great objects of government, there are contingent funds appropriated yearly by Congress. These are expended for such objects as could not well be foreseen, by some one of the clerks or other officer belonging to each of the departments, who is especially entrusted with that business, to whom the accounts of such contingencies must be presented. He takes a receipt in his own name, and at the end of each quarter of a year is brought to a settlement himself, for all his disembursements at the an act of Congress of May, 7th 1322, an important change has been made in the manner of paying the accounts accuring in the Army and Navy. Heretofore they were paid on warrants, drawn by the Secretaries of those Departments. The act above referred to, requires, that all moneys appropriated for the use of the War and Navy Departments shall, from and after the 30th of June, 1822, be drawn from the Treasury, by warrants of the Secretary of the Treasury upon the requisitions of the Secretaries of those Departments, countersigned by the second Comptroller, and registered by the proper Auditor.

the same Act all the moneys which remained in the hands of the Treasurer, as agents of the War and Navy Departments are required to be repaid into the Treasury, and carried to the credit of the proper Department upon the books of the e act of January 31st 1823, prohibits an advance of public money, in any case whatever; and requires all persons who may receive public money for disbursement, to render quarterly accounts to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury, for settlement: and all officers of the government who neglects to comply with this regulation are to be promptly reported to the President, and dismissed from the public service.

CUSTOM HOUSE OFFICERS.

The principal officer employed in the collection of the duties on imports and Tonnage, is the Collector, to whom the Naval officer is at once an aid and a check. The Surveyor superintends and directs the inferior officers of the Customs; and all three are appointed by the President and Senate.—They, formerly, held their offices for an indefinite period; but, by an Act of 15th May, 1820, their appointment is now limited to four years. Weighers, Gaugers, Measurers, and Inspectors, are appointed by the Collector, with the approbation of the principal officer of the Treasury Department. For the duties of these several officers, see the Act of Congress of the 2d of March, 1799. Public Appraisers are authorized by an Act of the 20th of April, 1818. Their business is to appraise imported goods subject to duty ad valorem, when they are suspected to have been invoiced below the true value.]

Registers of Land Offices, and Receivers of Public Moneys, receive one per cent. on moneys entered by them, and $500 salary, not to exceed $3000 per annum.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

The War Department was erected by Act of 7th August, 1789. The Secretary of War, at first, had the superintendence of Naval Affairs. On the 30th of April, 1798, however, a separation took place, and a Navy Department was established. The Secretary of War superintends every branch of the Military Department; and is, by usage, a member of the Cabinet. He holds his office at the will of the President. Attached to the War Department, and under the immediate direction of the Secretary, are an Engineer Office, an Ordnance Office, an Office for the Commissary General of Subsistence, a Pay-Master General's Office, a Surgeon General's Office, a Bounty Land Office, and a Pension Bureau. All these offices, together with the Head Quarters of the Commanding General, (Major General Brown,) and the Adjutant General's, Quarter Master General's, and Surgeon General's Offices, are located at Washington. To this Department belongs the erection of all fortifications, making all topographical surveys; surveying and leasing the national lead mines; direction (under the laws,) of intercourse with Indian tribes. Under its direction, also, within a few years past, several highly useful and valuable military roads have been constructed, almost without expense to the Government.]

INDIAN TRADE AND INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The act of the 7th of August, 1789, enjoins on the Secretary of War to execute such duties relative to Indian Affairs as may be confided to him; and, under this authority, he superintends the negotiation of Indian Treaties, and other matters connected with Indian Agencies and Trade, which, from the necessary association between the subjection and civilization of the aborigines, within the territorial limits of the United States; intermingle themselves with the Military Establishment.

The Act of March 2nd, 1811, regulating the trade with Indian Tribes, being limited in its duration, to the 3d of June, 1822, and not renewed at the First Session of the Seventeenth Congress, of course expired. At that Session, however, another law, bearing date May 6th, 1822, was passed, which made an entire change in the system. By that law the President was required to cause the Indian Trading Houses to be closed, and the accounts to be settled.

By another law of the same date, private Traders with the Indians are permitted. They receive licenses for seven years for Trade with remote Indians, and two years with others. Citizens only can obtain licenses. The President may cause the stores and packages of goods of the Traders to be searched for ardent spirits, &c. and if ardent spirits are found, the goods are forfeited. This act also authorizes the President to appoint a Superintendent of Indian Affairs, to reside at St. Louis, with a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per annum; and an Agent for the Tribes in East and West Florida, also with an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars.]

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

[The office of Secretary of the Navy was created by Act of the 30th of April, 1798. He issues all orders to the Navy of the United States, and superintends the concerns of the Naval Establishment generally. A Board of Navy Commissioners was instituted by Act of 7th February, 1815, to aid him in the discharge of his duties. The Secretary of the Navy is, by usage, a Member of the Cabinet; and holds his office at the will of the President.

Since the publication of the last volume, Smith Thompson, then Secretary of the Navy, has resigned, and has been appointed an associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Brockholdst Livingston. Samuel L. Southard, of New Jersey, then Senator of the United States, was appointed Secretary of the Navy in Mr. Thompson's resignation.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS FOR THE NAVY.

This Board was established by act of 7th of February, 1815. It consists of three Captains of the Navy, in rank not below that of a post Captain. The Board is, by law, attached to the Office of the Secretary of the Navy, and under his superintendence, discharges all the ministerial duties of that office relative to the procurement of naval stores and materials, and the construction, armament, equipment, and employment of vessels of war as well as other matters connected with the Naval Establishment of the United States. They appoint their own Secretary; and their records are at all times subject to the inspection of the President of the United States, and the Secretary of the Navy.

apt. Charles Morris has been appointed a Navy Commissioner, in the place of Capt. Porter, who resigned, to be appointed to the command of the Squadron for the Suppression of Piracy. J. K. Paulding, Secretary to the Board, has resigned, and C. W. Goldsborough, Chief Clerk, appointed in his stead. William G. Ridgely is Chief Clerk, in place of Mr.

EXAMINATION OF MIDSHIPMEN.

Once in each year a Board of Officers for the Examination of Midshipmen requesting promotion, is instituted. The rule was introduced in the Regulations of the Navy, at the suggestion of the Navy Commissioners. The Officers constituting the Board are selected by the Secretary of the Navy. It consists of three Captaius, aided by a Mathematician. Public notice of the place and time of sitting of the Board is given, and all Midshipmen deeming themselves qualified for examination, are requested to attend for that purpose. The examination is very rigid, and is conducted with so severe a scrutiny in the acquirements of the applicant, that it is presumed all passed by the Board, are, from a full knowledge of the duties of their profession, qualified to take command of a ship.

Marine Corps.. Colonel, Captains, Lieutenants.

MARINE CORPS.

[The Peace Establishment of this corps is fixed by Act of 3d March, 1817. It consists of a Lieutenant Colonel Commandant, 9 Captains, 24 First Lieutenants, 16 Second Lieutenants, one Adjutant and Inspector, one Paymaster, one Quartermaster, 73 Corporals, 42 Drums and Fifes, and 750 Privates. By an accidental omission in the Act fixing the Establishment, Sergeants are not mentioned: but as this was understood to be a mere mistake in transcribing the law, they have been retained as indispensable to such a corps. The Head Quarters are at the City of Washington, where drafts are made from time to time, to supply the demands of the Naval Service.

THE CONGRESS.

The Congress of the United States consists of the Senate and House of Representatives; the former composed of 48 in number, the latter of 215, of whom three are Delegates.

There are two Senators from each State. They were originally divided into three classes; and one third of them are rechosen every second year, for the term of six years. They are chosen by the Legislatures of the States. When a new State is admitted into the Union, the Secretary of the Senate puts into the ballot-box two numbers, upon paper of equal size, one of which is drawn out by each of the two Senators from the new State; the Senate having determined, by a previous order, to which class each Senator so drawing the one or the other number shall belong.

The Senate have, upon all the principal nominations by the President of the United States, a voice of advice and consent, or otherwise; in which case it sits with closed doors. The journal of its proceedings is then secret. They have also a vote in the ratification of treaties; in which case it is indispensable that two-thirds of them should consent. The Senate is also a court for the trial of high crimes and misdemeanours, upon im-peachments by the House of Representatives.

The President of the Senate has a casting vote only in case of an equal division of the votes of the Senators. The Vice-President of the United States, when he acts as President of the Senate, receives no addition to his pay as Vice-President, which is $5000 per annum. The president pro-tempore, during the period of his services, receives $16 per diem for every day he attends.

The Senate is the only perpetual body in the federal government. The perpetuity, however, helougs to it only in its chaacter of Senate; the individual members being renewed, as stated, by successive thirds, biennially.

The House of Representatives is composed of a fixed number of members from each State in the Union, each of whom is elected every two years by the People.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives is chosen by a majority of the members of the House, for the term of the Congress to which he belongs as a member of the House. His privileges are the same as those of any other member; and his compensation is § 16 per diem.

Each Senator and Representative receives, for his services, $8 per diem, during the period of his attendance in the Senate or House; and, in case of sickness, this compensation is continued. The same allowance is made to each, for every 20 miles of the usual road in going to and returning from the seat of government.

The Congress must assemble, at least, once in every year, on the first Monday in December, if not otherwise provided by law. The President of the United States may convene them at any time, upon giving forty days notice. Neither House can adjourn for more than three days, without the consent of the other, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting. In case of disagreement about the time, the President of the United States may adjourn them to such time as he thinks proper. The Senate and House each form their own rules; and are, respectively, judges of their own elections.

Both Senators and Representatives are, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective Houses, and in going to, or returning from, the same; and for any speech or debate in either House, they cannot be questioned in any other place. They cannot hold offices under the federal government while acting as members. Bills for raising revenue must originate in the House: and the House, solely, has the power of impeachment.

Members of Congress are prohibited by law either directly or indirectly, from undertaking, in whole or in part, any contract, &c. with the United States.

Each Senator and Representative has the privilege of franking packets and letters, not exceeding two ounces in weight each, during the Session, and for thirty days before and afterwards. The Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House have the same privilege. In case of larger documents, a special law exempts them from postage.

As there is no periodical renewal of the Senate, the officers of that body are not appointed for any stated time. In the House of Representatives, which is renewed every second year, all the officers are elected at the first session of each Congress.

According to the act of 3rd March, 1823, the Representatives in Congress, are elected agreeably to a ratio of one for every 40,600 persons, computed according to the rule of the Constitution. Previous to the Census of 1820, and under that of 1810, the ratio had been one for every 30,000 persons. The increase of members, under the last Census, is twenty-five.

The following is a list of the members and officers of the first session of the Eighteenth Congress, which commenced at the Capitol, in the City of Washington, on the 1st of December, 1823, with the residence (county and post office) of each member.

Message of the President of the United States, transmitted to both Houses of Congress, on Tuesday the 2d December, 1823.

ELLOW-CITIZENS OF THE SENATE

AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES;

Many important subjects will claim your attention during ne present session, of which I shall endeavour to give, in aid f your deliberations, a just idea in this communication. I unertake this duty with diffidence, from the vast extent of the iterests on which I have to treat, and of their great importance every portion of our Union. I enter on it with zeal, from a forough conviction that there never was a period, since the establishment of our revolution, when, regarding the condition of the civilized world, and its bearing on us, there was greate necessity for devotion in the public servants, to their respective duties, or for virtue, patriotism, and union, in our constituents.

Meeting in you a new Congress, I deem it proper to presen this view of public affairs in greater detail than might other wise be necessary. I do it, however, with peculiar satisfac tion, from a knowledge that, in this respect, I shall complmore fully with the sound principles of our government. people being with us exclusively the sovereign, it is indispen sable that full information be laid before them on all importan subjects, to enable them to exercise that high power with com plete effect. If kept in the dark, they must be incompetent to it. We are all liable to error, and those who are engaged in the management of public affairs, are more subject to excite ment, and to be led astray by their particular interests and passions, than the great body of our constituents, who, living at home, in the pursuit of their ordinary avocations, are calm but deeply interested spectators of events, and of the conduc of those who are parties to them. To the people, every de partment of the government, and every individual in each, ar responsible; and the more full their information, the bette they can judge of the wisdom of the policy pursued, and of th conduct of each in regard to it. From their dispassionat judgment, much aid may always be obtained, while their ap probation will form the greatest incentive, and most gratifying reward for virtuous actions, and the dread of their censure th best security against the abuse of their confidence. Their in terests, in all vital questions, are the same; and the bond by sentiment, as well as by interest, will be proportionably strengthened as they are better informed of the real state of public affairs, especially in difficult conjunctures. It is by such knowledge that local prejudices and jealousies are surmounted and that a national policy, extending its fostering care and pro tection to all the great interests of our union, is formed, and steadily adhered to.

A precise knowledge of our relations with foreign powers, a respects our negociations and transactions with each, is though to be particularly necessary. Equally necessary is it, that we should form a just estimate of our resources, revenue, and progress in every kind of improvement connected with the nation al prosperity and public defence. It is by rendering justice to other nations, that we may expect it from them. It is by ou ability to resent injuries, and redress wrongs, that we may avoid them.

The Commissioners under the fifth article of the treaty of Ghent, having disagreed in their opinions respecting that portion of the boundary between the territories of the United States and of Great Britain, the establishment of which had been submitted to them, have made their respective reports, in compliance with that article, that the same might be referred to the decision of a friendly power It being manifest, however, that it would be difficult, if not impossible, for any power to perform that office, without great delay and much inconvenience to itself, a proposal has been made by this government, and acceded to by that of Great Britain, to endeavour to establish that boundary by amicable negociation. It appearing, from long experience, that no satisfactory arrangement could be formed of the commercial intercourse between the United States and the British colonies in this hemisphere, by legislative acts, while each party pursued its own course, without agreement or concert with the other, a proposal has been made to the British government to regulate this commerce by treaty, as it has been to arrange in like manner, the just claim of the citizens of the United States, inhabiting the states and territories bordering on the lakes and rivers which empty into the St. Lawrence, to the navigation of that river to the ocean. For these and other objects of high importance to the interests of both parties, a negotiation has been opened with the British government, which, it is hoped, will have a satisfactory result.

The Commissioners under the sixth and seventh articles of the treaty of Ghent, having successfully closed their labours in relation to the sixth, have proceeded to the discharge of those relating to the seventh. Their progress in the extensive survey, required for the performance of their duties, justifies the presumption that it will be completed in the ensuing year.

The negotiation which had been long depending with the French government on several important subjects, and particularly for a just indemnity for losses sustained in the late wars by the citizens of the United States, under unjustifiable seizures and confiscations of their property, has not, as yet, had the desired effect. As this claim rests on the same principle with others which have been admitted by the French government, it is not perceived on what just ground it can be rejected. A minister will be immediately appointed to proceed to France, and resume the negotiation on this and other subjects, which may arise between the two nations.

At the proposal of the Russian Imperial government, made through the minister of the Emperor, residing here, a full power and instructions have been transmitted to the minister of the United States at St. Petersburg, to arrange, by amicable negotiation, the respective rights and interests of the two nations on the northwest coast of this continent. A similar proposal had been made by his Imperial Majesty to the government of Great Britain, which has likewise been acceded to. The government of the United States has been desirous, by this friendly proceeding, of manifesting the great value which they have invariably attached to the friendship of the Emperor, and their solicitude to cultivate the best understanding with his government. In the discussions to which this interest has given rise, and in the arrangements by which 'they may terminate, the occasion has been judged proper for asserting, as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers.

Since the close of the last session of Congress, the commissioners and arbitrators for ascertaining and determining the amount of indemnification which may be due to citizens of the United States under the decision of his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia, in conformity to the convention concluded at St. Petersburg, on the twelfth of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-two, have assembled in this city, and organized themselves as a board for the performance of the duties assigned to them by that treaty. The commission constituted under the eleventh article of the treaty of the twentysecond of February, eighteen hundred and nineteen, between the United States and Spain, is also in session here; and, as the term of three years limited by the treaty, for the execution of the trust, will expire before the period of the next regular meeting of Congress, the attention of the Legislature will be drawn to the measures which may be necessary to accomplish the objects for which the commission was instituted.

In compliance with a resolution of the House of Representatives, adopted at their last session, instructions have been given to all the Ministers of the United States, accredited to the powers of Europe and America, to propose the proscription of the African slave trade, by classing it under the denomination, and inflicting on its perpetrators the punishment of piracy. Should this proposal be acceded to, it is not doubted, that this odious and criminal practice will be promptly and entirely suppressed. It is earnestly hoped that it will be acceded to, from the firm belief that it is the most effectual expedient that can be adopted for the purpose.

At the commencement of the recent war between France and Spain, it was declared by the French government, that it would grant no commissions to privateers, and that neither the commerce of Spain herself, nor of neutral nations, should be molested by the naval force of France, except in the breach of a lawful blockade. This declaration, which appears to have been faithfully carried into effect, concurring with principles proclaimed and cherished by the United States, from the first establishment of their independence, suggested by the hope that the time had arrived when the proposal for adopting it as a permanent and invariable rule, in all future maritime wars, might meet the favourable consideration of the great European powers. Instructions have accordingly been given to our ministers with France, Russia, and Great Britain, to make those proposals to their respective governments; and when the friends of humanity reflect on the essential amelioration to the condition of the human race, which would result from the abolition of private war on the sea, and on the great facility by which it might be accomplished, requiring only the consent of a few sovereigns, an earnest hope is indulged that these overtures will meet with an attention animated by the spirit in which they were made, and that they will ultimately be successful.

The Ministers who were appointed to the Republics of Colombia and Buenos Ayres, during the last session of Congress, proceeded shortly afterwards to their destinations. Of their arrival there, official intelligence has not yet been received. The Minister appointed to the Republic of Chili will sail in a few days. An early appointment will also be made to Mexico. A minister has been received from Colombia, and the other governments have been informed that ministers, or diplomatic agents of inferior grade would be received from each, accordingly, as they might prefer the one or the other.

The minister appointed to Spain, proceeded, soon after his appointment, for Cadiz, the residence of the sovereign, to whom he was accredited. In approaching that port, the frigate which conveyed him, was warned off by the commander of the French squadron, by which it was blockaded, and not permitted to enter, although apprized, by the captain of the frigate, of the public character of the person whom he had on board, the landing of whom was the sole object of his proposed entry. The set, being considered an infringement of the rights of ambassadors, and of nations, will form a just cause of complaint to the government of France, against the officer by whom it was commanded.

The actual condition of the public finances more than realizes the favourable anticipations that were entertained of it at the opening of the last session of Congress. On the first of January there was a balance in the Treasury of four millions two hundred and thirty-seven thousand, four hundred and twenty-seven dollars and fifty-five cents. From that time to the thirtieth of September, the receipts amounted to upwards of sixteen millions one hundred thousand dollars, and the expenditures to eleven millions four hundred thousand dollars. During the fourth quarter of the year, it is estimated, that the receipts will, at least, equal the expenditures, and that there will remain in the Treasury on the first day of January next, a surplus of nearly nine millions of dollars.

On the first of January, eighteen hundred and twenty-five, a large amount of the war debt, and a part of the Revolutionary debt, become redeemable. Additional portions of the former will continue to become redeemable, annually, until the year eighteen hundred and thirty-five. It is believed, however, that, if the United States remain at peace, the whole of that debt may be redeemed, by the ordinary revenue of those years during that period, under the provision of the act of March third, eighteen hundred and seventeen, creating the sinking fund, and, in that case, the only part of the debt that will remain, after the year eighteen hundred and thirty-five, will be the seven millions of five per cent. stock subscribed to the Bank of the United States, and the three per cent. Revolutionary debt, amounting to thirteen millions two hundred and ninety-six thousand and ninety-nine dollars and six cents, both of which are redeemable at the pleasure of the government.

The state of the army in its organization and discipline, has been gradually improving for several years, and has now attained a high degree of perfection. The military disbursements have been regularly made, and the accounts regularly and promptly rendered for settlement. The supplies of various descriptions, have been of good quality, and regularly sisted at all of the posts. A system of economy and accountability has been introduced into every branch of the service, which admits of little additional improvement. This desirable state has been attained by the act reorganizing the staff of the army, passed on the fourteenth of April, eighteen hundred and eighteen.

The moneys appropriated for fortifications have been regularly and economically applied, and all the works advanced as rapidly as the amount appropriated would admit. Three important works will be completed in the course of this year: that is, Fort Washington, Fort Delaware, and the Fort at the Rigolets, in Louisiana.

The board of engineers, and the topographical corps, have been in constant and active service, in surveying the coast, and projecting the works necessary for its defence.

The Military Academy has attained a degree of perfection in its discipline and instruction, equal, as is believed, to any institution of its kind in any country.

The money appropriated for the use of the Ordnance Department, has been regularly and economically applied. The fabrication of arms at the national armories, and by contract with the Department, has been gradually improving in quality and cheapness. It is believed that their quality is now such as to admit of but little improvement.

The completion of the fortifications renders it necessary that there should be a suitable appropriation for the purpose of fabricating the cannon and carriages necessary for those works.

Under the appropriation of five thousand dollars for exploring the western waters for the location of a site for a Western Armory, a commission was constituted, consisting of Colonel McRee, Colonel Lec, and Captain Talcott, who have been engaged in exploring the country. They have not yet reported the result of their labours, but it is believed that they will be prepared to do it, at an early part of the Session of Congress.

During the month of June last, General Ashley and his party, who were trading under a license from the government, were attacked by the Ricarees while peaceably trading with the Indians, at their request. Several of the party were killed and wounded, and their property taken or destroyed.

Colonel Leavenworth, who commanded Fort Atkinson, at the Council Bluffs, the most western post, apprehending that the hostile spirit of the Ricarees would extend to other tribes in that quarter, and that thereby the lives of the traders on the Missouri, and the peace of the frontier, would be endangered, took immediate measures to check the evil.

With a detachment of the regiment stationed at the Bluffs, he successfully attacked the Ricaree village; and it is hoped that such an impression has been made on them, as well as on the other tribes on the Missouri, as will prevent a recurrence of future hostility.

The report of the Secretary of War, which is herewith transmitted, will exhibit, in greater detail, the condition of the Department in its various branches, and the progress which has been made in its administration during the three first quarters of the year.

I transmit a return of the militia of the several states, according to the last reports which have been made, by the proper officers in each, to the Department of War. By reference to this return, it will be seen that it is not complete, although great exertions have been made to make it so. As the defence, and even the liberties of the country must depend, in times of imminent danger, on the militia, it is of the highest importance that it be well organized, armed, and disciplined, throughout the Union. The report of the Secretary of War shows the progress made during the three first quarters of the present year, by the application of the fund appropriated for arming the militia. Much difficulty is found in distributing the arms according to the act of Congress providing for it, from the failure of the proper departments in many of the States to make regular returns. The act of May the twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and twenty, provides that the system of tactics and regulations, of the various corps of the regular army shall be extended to the militia. This act has been very imperfectly executed from the want of uniformity in the organization of the militia, proceeding from the defects of the system itself, and especially in its application to that main arm of the public defence. It is thought that this important subject, in all its branches, merits the attention of Congress.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy, which is now communicated, furnishes an account of the administration of that Department, for the three first quarters of the present year, with the progress made in augmenting the Navy, and the manner in which the vessels in commission have been employed.

The usual force has been maintained in the Mediterranean Sea, the Pacific Ocean, and along the Atlantic coast, and has afforded the necessary protection to our commerce in those seas.

In the West Indies and the Gulph of Mexico, our naval force has been augmented, by the addition of several small vessels, provided for by the act, "authorizing an additional naval force for the suppression of piracy," passed by Congress at their last session. That armament has been eminently successful in the accomplishment of its object. The piracies, by which our commerce in the neighbourhood of the Island of Cuba had been afflicted, have been repressed, and the confidence of our merchants in a great measure restored.

The patriotic zeal and enterprise of Commodore Porter, to whom the command of the expedition was confided, has been fully seconded by the officers and men, under his command. And, in reflecting, with high satisfaction, on the honourable manner in which they have sustained the reputation of their country and its navy, the sentiment is alloyed only by a concern, that, in the fulfilment of that arduous service, the diseases incident to the season, and to the climate in which it was discharged, have deprived the nation of many useful lives, and among them of several officers of great promise.

In the month of August a very malignant fever made its appearance at Thompson's Island, which threatened the destruction of our station there. Many perished; and the commanding officer was severely attacked. Uncertain as to his fate, and knowing that most of the medical officers had been rendered incapable of discharging their duties, it was thought expedient to send to that post an officer of rank and experience, with several skilful surgeons to ascertain the origin of the fever and the probability of its recurrence there in future seasons; to furnish every assistance to those who were suffering, and, if practicable, to avoid the necessity of abandoning so important a station, Commodore Rodgers, with a promptitude which did him honour, cheerfully accepted that trust, and has discharged it in the manner anticipated from his skill and patriotism. Before his arrival, Commodore Porter, with the greater part of the squadron, had removed from the Island, and returned to the United States, in consequence of the prevailing sickness. Much useful information has however been obtained, as to the state of the Island, and great relief afforded to those who had been necessarily left there.

Although our expedition, co-operating with an invigorated administration of the government of the Island of Cuba, and with the corresponding active exertions of a British naval force in the same seas, have almost entirely destroyed the unlicensed piracies from that island, the success of our exertions has not been equally effectual to suppress the same crime, under other pretences and colors, in the neighbouring island of Porto Rico. They have been committed there under the abusive issue of Spanish commissions. At an early period of the present year, remonstrances were made to the Governor of that island, by an agent who was sent for the purpose, against those outrages on the peaceful commerce of the United States, of which many had occurred. That officer, professing his own want of authority to make satisfaction for our just complaints, answered only by a reference of them to the government of Spain. The minister of the United States to that court was specially instructed to urge the necessity of the immediate and effectual interposition of that government, directing restitution and indemnity for wrongs already committed, and interdicting the repetition of them. The minister, as has been seen, was debarred access to the Spanish government, and, in the mean time, several new cases of flagrant outrage have occurred, and citizens of the United States in the island of Porto Rico have suffered, and others have been threatened with assassination, for asserting their unquestionable rights, even before the lawful tribunals of the country.

The usual orders have been given to all our public ships, to seize American vessels engaged in the Slave trade, and bring them in for adjudication; and I have the gratification to state, that not one so employed has been discovered, and there is good reason to believe that our flag is now seldom, if at all, disgraced by that traffic.

It is a source of great satisfaction that we are always enabled to recur to the conduct of our Navy with pride and commendation. As a means of national defence, it enjoys the public confidence, and is steadily assuming additional importance. It is submitted whether a more efficient and equally economical organization of it, might not, in several respects, be effected. It is supposed that higher grades than now exist by law would be useful. They would afford well merited rewards to those who have long and faithfully served their country; present the best incentives to good conduct, and the best means of insuring a proper discipline; destroy the inequality in that respect between military and naval services, and relieve our officers from many inconveniences and mortifications, which occur when our vessels meet those of other nations—ours being the only service in which such grades do not exist.

A report of the Post-Master General, which accompanies this communication, will shew the present state of the Post-Office Department, and its general operations for some years past.

There is established, by law, eighty-eight thousand six hundred miles of post roads, on which the mail is now transported eighty-five thousand seven hundred miles, and contracts have been made for its transportation on all the established routes, with one or two exceptions. There are five thousand two hundred and forty post-offices in the Union, and as many post-masters. The gross amount of postage which accrued from the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-two, to the first of July, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three, was one million one hundred and fourteen thousand three hundred and forty-five dollars twelve cents. During the same period, the expenditures of the Post Office Department amounted to one million one hundred and sixty-nine thousand eight hundred and eighty-five dollars and fifty-one cents; and consisted of the folowing items. Compensation to Postmasters, three hundred and fifty-three thousand nine hundred and ninety-five dollars and ninety-eight cents; incidental expenses, thirty thousand eight hundred and sixty-six dollars and thirty seven cents; transportation of the mail seven hundred and eighty-four thousand six hundred dollars and eight cents; payments into the Treasury, four hundred and twenty-three dollars and eight sents. On the first of July last, there was due to the Department, from Postmasters, one hundred and thirty-five thousand :wo hundred and forty-five dollars and twenty-eight cents; from ate postmasters and contractors, two hundred and fifty-six housand seven hundred and forty-nine dollars and thirty-one cents; making a total amount of balances due to the Department, of three hundred and ninety one thousand nine hundred and ninety-four dollars and fifty-nine cents, these balances emprace all delinquencies of postmasters and contractors, which nave taken place since the organization of the Department. There was due by the Department, to contractors, on the first of July last, twenty-six thousand five hundred and forty-eight dolars and sixty-four cents.

The transportation of the mail, within five years past, has been greatly extended, and the expenditures of the department proportionably increased. Although the postage, which has accrued within the last three years, has fallen short of the expenditures two hundred and sixty-two thousand eight hundred and twenty-one dollars and forty-six cents, it appears that colections have been made from the outstanding balances to meet he principal part of the current demands.

It is estimated that not more than two hundred and fifty thouand dollars of the above balances can be collected, and that a considerable part of this sum can only be realized by a resort to egal process. Some improvement in the receipts for postage is expected. A prompt attention to the collection of moneys received by postmasters, it is believed, will anable the department o continue its operations without aid from the Treasury, unless the expenditure shall be increased by the establishment of new mail routes.

A revision of some parts of the post office law may be necessary, and it is submitted, whether it would not be proper to provide for the appointment of post masters, where the compensation exceeds a certain amount, by nomination to the Senate, as wher officers of the general government are appointed.

Ma ving communicated my views to Congress at the commencement of the last session, respecting the encouragement which ought to be given to our manufactures, and the principle of which it should be founded, I have only to add that those view remain unchanged, and that the present state of those countries with which we have the most immediate political relations and greatest commercial intercourse, tends to confirm them. Under this impression, I recommend a review of the tariff for the purpose of affording such additional protection to those articles which we are prepared to manufacture, or which are more immediately connected with the defence and independence of the country.

The actual state of the public accounts furnishes additiona evidence of the efficiency of the present system of accountability in relation to the public expenditure. Of the moneys drawn from the Treasury since the fourth of March, eighteen hundred and seventeen, the sum remaining unaccounted for on the thirtieth of September last, is more than a million and a half of dollars less than on the thirtieth of September preceding; and, during the same period, a reduction of nearly a million of dollars has been made in the amount of the unsettled accounts for moneys advanced previously to the fourth of March, eighteen hundred and seventeen. It will be obvious that, in proportion a the mass of accounts of the latter description is diminished, by settlement, the difficulty of settling the residue is increased, from the consideration that, in many instances, it can be obtained only by legal process. For more precise details on this subject. I refer to a report from the First Comptroller of the Treasury.

The sum which was appropriated at the last session, for the repairs of the Cumberland road, has been applied with good effect to that object. A final report has not yet been received from the agent who was appointed to superintend it. As soon as it is received, it shall be communicated to Congress.

Many patriotic and enlightened citizens, who have made the subject an object of particular investigation, have suggested an improvement of still greater importance. They are of opinion that the waters of the Chesapeake and Ohio may be connected together by one continued canal, and at an expense far short of the value and importance of the object to be obtained. If this could be accomplished, it is impossible to calculate the beneficial consequences which would result from it. A great portion of the produce of very fertile country through which it would pass, would find a market through that channel. Troops might be moved with great facility in war, with cannon, and every kind of munition, and in either direction. Connecting the Atlantic with the western country, in a line passing through the seat of reference in the supplier of the western country, in a line passing through the seat of reference in the supplier of the supplier o ational government, it would contribute essentially to strength1 the bond of Union itself. Believing as I do, that Congress

1 seess the right to appropriate money for such a national ob1 ct, (the jurisdiction remaining to the states through which the
1 nual would pass, I submit it to your consideration whether it
1 ay not be advisable to authorize, by an adequate appropria2 on, the employment of a suitable number of the officers of the 2 or engineers, to examine the unexplored ground, during the 2 states on, and to report their opinion thereon. It will like1 its be proper to extend their examination to the several routes
2 rough which the waters of the Ohio may be connected, by ca2 uls, with those of Lake Erie.

As the Cumberland road will require annual repairs, and ongress have not thought it expedient to recommend to the ttes an amendment to the constitution, for the purpose of vesting in the United States a power to adopt and execute a system internal improvement, it is also submitted to your consideran, whether it m y not be expedient to authorize the Executive enter into an arrangement with the several states through ich the road passes, to establish tolls, each within its limits, the purpose of defraying the expense of future repairs, and of widing, also, by suitable penalties, for its protection against ure injuries.

The act of Congress of the 7th of May, one thousand eight adred and twenty-two, appropriated the sum of twenty-two usand seven hundred dollars for the purpose of erecting two rs as a shelter to vessels from ice, near Cape Henlopen, Deare Bay To effect the object of the act, the officers of the rd of Engineers, with Commodore Bainbridge, were directed arepare plans and estimates of piers sufficient to answer the pose intended by the act. It appears by their report, which ompanies the document from the War Department, that the propriation is not adequate to the purpose intended; and, as piers would be of great service, both to the navigation of the laware Bay, and the protection of vessels on the adjacent ts of the coast, I submit for the consideration of Congress ather additional and sufficient appropriations should not be de.

The board of Engineers were also directed to examine and vey the entrance of the harbour of the port of Presqu' isle in msylvania, in order to make an estimate of the expense of oving the obstructions to the entrance, with a plan of the t mode of affecting the same under the appropriation for that pose by an act of Congress passed third of March last. The off the Board accompanies the papers from the War Detment, and is submitted for the consideration of Congress,

A strong hope has been long entertained, founded on the heroic struggle of the Greeks, that they would succeed in their contest, and resume their equal station as among the nations of the earth. It is believed that the whole civilized world takes a deep interest in their welfare. Although no power has declared in their favour, yet none, according to our information, has taken part against them. Their cause and their name have protected them from dangers, which might ere this have overwhelmed any other people. The ordinary calculations of interest, and of acquisition, with a view to aggrandizement, which mingle so much in the transactions of nations, seem to have had no effect in regard to them. From the facts which have come to our knowledge, there is good cause to believe that their enemy has lost forever all dominion over them; that Greece will become again an independent nation. That she may obtain that rank, is the object of our most ardent wishes.

It was stated at the commencement of the last session, that a great effort was then making in Spain and Portugal to improve the condition of the people of those countries; and that it appeared to be conducted with extraordinary moderation. It need scarcely be remarked, that the result has been, so far, very different from what was then anticipated. Of events in that quarter of the globe with which we have so much intercourse, and from which we derive our origin, we have always been anxious and interested spectators. The citizens of the United States cherish sentiments the most friendly, in favour of the liberty and happiness of their fellow men on that side o the Atlantic. In the wars of the European powers, in matters relating to themselves, we have never taken any part, no does it comport with our policy so to do. It is only when ou rights are invaded, or seriously menaced, that we resent injuries or make preparation for our defence. With the movements is this hemisphere, we are, of necessity, more immediately connected, and by causes which must be obvious to all enlightened and impartial observers. The political system of the allie powers is essentially different in this respect, from that of Ame rica. This difference proceeds from that which exists in thei respective governments. And to the defence of our own, which has been achieved by the loss of so much blood and treasure and matured by the wisdom of their most enlightened citizens and under which we have enjoyed unexampled felicity, thi whole nation is devoted. We owe it therefore to candor, and to the amicable relations existing between the United State and those powers, to declare, that we should consider any at tempt, on their part, to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere, as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power, we have not interfered, and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence, and maintained it, and whose independence, we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling, in any other manner, their destiny, by any European power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unriendly disposition towards the United States. In the war beween those new governments and Spain, we declared our neutrality at the time of their recognition, and to this we have idhered, and shall continue to adhere, provided no change shall occur, which, in the judgment of the competent authorities of his government, shall make a corresponding change on the part of the United States indispensable to their security.

The late events in Spain and Portugal shew that Europe is till unsettled. Of this important fact, no stronger proof can e adduced, than that the allied powers should have thought t proper, on any principles satisfactory to themselves, to have nterposed, by force, in the internal concerns of Spain. To that extent such interposition may be carried, on the same rinciple, is a question in which all independent powers, hose governments differ from theirs, are interested; even lose most remote, and surely none more so than the United tates. Our policy in regard to Europe, which was adopted t the early stage of the wars which have so long agitated that larter of the globe, nevertheless remains the same, which is, ot to interfere in the internal concerns of any of its powers; consider the government de facto as the legitimate governent for us; to cultivate friendly relations with it, and to eserve those relations by a frank, firm, and manly policy, eeting in all instances the just claims of every power; subitting to injuries from none. But, in regard to these continents, roumstances are eminently and conspicuously different. impossible that the allied powers should extend their political stem, to any portion of either continent without endangering ir peace and happiness; nor can any one believe that our uthern brethern, if left to themselves, would adopt it of their vn accord. It is equally impossible, therefore, that we should shold such interposition, in any form, with indifference. e look to the comparative strength and resources of Spain and ose new governments, and their distance from each of er. must be obvious that she can never subdue them. It is still e true policy of the United States to leave the parties to VOL. V.

themselves, in the hope that other powers will pursue the same

If we compare the present condition of our Union, with its actual state at the close of our revolution, the history of the world furnishes no example of a progress in improvement, in all the important circumstances which constitute the happiness of a nation, which bears any resemblance to it. At the first epoch our population did not exceed three millions. By the last census it amounted to about ten millions, and what is more extraordinary, it is almost altogether native, for the emigration from other countries has been inconsiderable. At the first epoch, half the territory within our acknowledged limits was uninhabited and a wilderness. Since then, new territory has been acquired, of vast extent, comprising within it many rivers, particularly the Mississippi, the navigation of which to the ocean was of the highest importance to the original states. Over this territory our population has expanded in every direction, and new States have been established, almost equal in number, to those which formed the first bond of our Union. This expansion of our population, and accession of new States to our Union, have had the happiest effect on all its highest interests. That it has eminently augmented our resources, and added to our strength and respectability, as a power, is admitted by all. But, it is not in these important circumstances only, that this happy effect is felt. It is manifest that, by enlarging the basis of our system, and increasing the number of states, the system itself has been greatly strengthened in both its branches. Consolidation and disunion have thereby been rendered equally impracticable. Each government, confiding in its own strength, has less to apprehend from the other; and in consequence each enjoying a greater freedom of action, is rendered more efficient for all the purposes for which it was instituted. It is unnecessary to treat, here, of the vast improvement made in the system itself, by the adoption of this constitution, and of its happy effect in elevating the character, and in protecting the rights of the nation, as well as of individ-To what then do we owe these blessings? It is known to all, that we derive them from the excellence of our institutions. Ought we not then to adopt every measure which may be necessary to perpetuate them?

Committees .. Senate.

COMMITTEES OF CONGRESS.

The Committees of the Senate, until the present Session, were elected by ballot; they are now appointed by the President .-

Those of the House are appointed by the Speaker.

To these committees, in either House, is confided the initiation of business. They report to the Senate or the House, by bill, or otherwise; and, upon such report, the Senate or House go in committee of the whole; in which form of proceeding the whole body of members are regarded as one committee; the President or Speaker, quits his chair, and some one member is called to preside as the chairman. In this committee, a wide latitude of discussion is allowed, and having made progress, or come to some determination on the subject under consideration, it rises and reports progress, asks leave to sit again, or to be discharged from that business, or reports in a conclusive manner, affirmatively or negatively; and the Senate or House grant or refuse the leave or discharge, or confirm or reject the report of the committee. This form of procedure is eminently calculated to prevent precipitation in measures of importance; and it is only in committee of the whole that the President and Speaker can take part in the debate.

Judicial Powers, Sto.

JUDICIARY.

[The Judicial power of the United States is vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as Congress, from time to time, establish. The present judicial establishment of the United States, consists of a Supreme Court, of twentyeight District Courts, and seven Circuit Courts; which are thus organized; the Supreme Court is composed of one Caief Justice and six Associate Justices, who hold a Court in the City of Washington, annually; besides which, each of there Justices attends in a certain Circuit, comprising two or more Districts, appropriated to each, and, together with the Judge of the District, compose a Circuit Court, which is holden in each District of the Circuit. The District Courts are held respectively, by the District Judge alone. Appeals are allowed from the District to the Circuit Courts, and from the Circuit to the Supreme Court: and, in some cases, where the inconvenience of attending the Court by a Justice of the Supreme Court is very great, the District Courts are invested with Circuit Court powers. Each State is one District, for the purpose of holding District and Circuit Courts therein. with the exception of New-York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Tennessee, each of which is divided into two Districts .-There are, besides, Territorial Courts, which are temporary, and lose that character whenever a Territory becomes a State. In addition to the District Court for the District of Columbia. there is a Circuit Court for that District, which exercises, under the authority of Congress, similar common law and equity jurisdiction as the County Courts of Maryland and Virginia. Each Court has a Clerk, a Public Attorney or Prosecutor, and a Marshal; all of whom are appointed by the Executive of the United States, with the exception of the Clerks, who are appointed by the Courts. The compensation of the Judges is fixed by law; that of the Clerks, Attorneys. and Marshals, consists of fees, and, in a few instances, as it regards Attorneys and Marshals, of a yearly salary of about 200 dollars. It is very difficult to ascertain the amount per annum of the fees received in each case, as the payment of them is frequently prograstinated, and in some cases they are entirely lost.

To the following list of judicial officers have been affixed the dates of their respective commissions. These dates have reference to their first appointments, when confirmed by the advice and consent of the Senate, except in one or two instances, where the appointments, having been made during the past year, in the recess of the Senate, are temporary, and remain for confirmation. By an Act of Congress of the 15th of May, 1820 District Attorneys are to be appointed for four years only removable at pleasure. Marshals have always held their offices for four years, removable at pleasure, in pursuance of the 27th section of the Act of the 24th of September, 1789; so that the Marshals who have held their places from an early date, have been recommissioned many times. The Judges hold their offices during good behaviour, and can only be removed on impeachment.

Rates of Postage, &c.

This establishment is under the superintendence of a Post-Master General, who is aided in the discharge of its duties by two Assistants. He has the sole appointment of all deputy post-masters throughout the United States; the making of all contracts for carrying the mails; and, in brief, the control, according to law, for every thing relating to the institution. The revenue arising from the General Post Office has, for the most part, been expended upon the extension and improvement of the establishment, by which means the accommodation of the mail conveyance for letters, newspapers, pamphlets, &c. has, in a most extraordinary degree, been extended to the inhabitants of every part of the Union, even to the most remote territorial settlements.

Increase of Post Roads, &c.

There is established by law 88,600 miles of Post Roads in the United States, and, at this time, the mail is transported 85,700 miles on these roads, leaving 2,900 miles not yet carried into operation. The mail is transported in stages on 20,943 miles of Post Roads. At the commencement of the next year, the mail will be conveyed on all the routes established, with perhaps one or two exceptions, for which contracts have not yet been made.

The following statement will shew the increase of Post

Roads in the years specified:

In the year 1819 there was established of Post Roads 9,113 miles.

To the sum of $232,821 46, must be added, for expenses incurred in transporting the mail, underbids accepted in cases where contracts have not been executed, or if executed, had not been returned to the Department, about.

262.821 46

The amount of postage which accrued for the three years above stated, was less than the actual expenditures of the Department, the above sum of $262,821 46 cts. But the real deficiency will be found much greater than this sum: for, there should be added the losses that will inevitably take place, in collecting more than a million of dollars in each year, from between five and six thousand Postmasters. The real excess of expenditure, above the receipts for postage, which accrued in the three years stated, cannot be much below $300,000. The whole of this deficiency must have been collected out of the balances due to the Department, except the amount that may yet remain unpaid.

The gross amount of postage which accrued from the 1st of July, 1822, to the 1st of July, 1823, was $1,114,345 12

The expenditures of the Department during the same period, are as follows:

$1,169,885 51

This balance, of $55,540 39, remains against the Department, if every dollar of postage which accrued within the year should be collected. This cannot be expected, and the deficiency will be increased, in proportion to the losses sustained in making collections for the year.

On the 1st of July last, there was due by the Department to contractors, for services rendered prior to that time, $26,548 64. This sum must be discharged out of the current receipts for postage, or from collections made out of the balances due to the Department. These balances, on the first of July last, amounted to $391,994 59; $135,245 28 of which was due from Postmasters; the balance from late Postmasters and contractors. As this sum includes delinquencies, which have been accumulating since the organization of the Department; and as large sums have been collected from those balances, within the three last years, a large proportion of the amount, which for some years has been due from late Postmasters and contractors, may safely be assumed as lost.

There is now about §160,000 in suit against late Postmasters, and in a very short time, suits will be commenced for all balances, except those which are due by Postmasters in office.

Not more than $25,000 will probably be collected from the total amount of balances due to the Department. And to realize this amount, some years of unremitting exertions will be necessary. A great majority of the accounts are for less than $100 each, and some hundreds of suits must be brought, in addition to those now pending.

In making the late contracts, the expenditure has been reduced on routes in operation, $47,821 12 cts.

There has been paid into the Treasury of the United States by this Department, since its organization $1,890,337 29 cts.

Michigan Territory.

MICHIGAN TERRITORY.

By an Act of Congress, of March 3, 1823, the following form of Government is provided for the Territory of Michigan.

The powers vested in the Governor, Legislative Council, and House of Representatives, of the Territory, by the act of January 11th, 1805, are conferred upon, and to be exercised by, the Governor and a Legislative Council, consisting of nine persons, any five of whom form a quorum, and who shall serve for the term of two years, and be appointed as follows:—Eighteen persons, having the qualifications of electors, shall be chosen by the qualified electors; the election to be conducted agreeably to the territorial law, prescribing the time and mode of electing a Delegate to Congress. After the first election, the time and manner of electing the Legislative Council, to be prescribed by the Legislature of the Territory.

The names of the eighteen persons having the greatest number of votes, to be transmitted to the President of the United States, who shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint therefrom, the legislative council for the Territory. No session in any one year shall exceed sixty days, nor shall any act passed by the Governor and Council be valid, after it shall have been disapproved by Congress.

The members of the council to receive two dollars per day, each, during their attendance at the sessions, and two dollars for every twenty miles in going to, and returning therefrom, in full compensation for their services, and which shall be paid by the United States.

The powers and duties of the judges are regulated by the laws of the Territory; and, the said judges possess a chancery, as well as common law jurisdiction. The tenure of their office is limited to four years: on the first day of February, 1824, and every four years thereafter, their offices become vacant. They are not deprived of the jurisdiction conferred on them by the laws of the United States.

If at any time a majority of the qualified electors of the Territory shall be in favour of a General Assembly, organized agreeably to the provisions of the Ordinance of 1787, then the powers of the Legislative Council shall cease, and a General Assembly shall be organized in conformity with the said Ordinance, subject to the following provisions.

The Governor shall divide the Territory into five districts, and the qualified electors in each, shall elect one member of the Legislative Council, who shall hold their offices for four years. Until there is five thousand free white male inhabitants, of twenty-one years of age and upwards, the number of representatives shall not be less than seven, nor more than nine. After the organization of the General Assembly, the apportionment of representatives shall be made by such Assembly. But there shall not be more than twelve, nor less than seven, until there shall be six thousand inhabitants as above, after which the number shall be regulated by the Ordinance aforesaid.

The Governor has power to grant pardons for offences against the Territory, and reprieves for offences against the United States, until the decision of the President thereon shall be made known.

After the first day of June, 1823, but one clerk is authorized for the Supreme Court of the Territory, who performs the duties of Clerk of said Court, whether sitting as a Circuit and District Court, or as Judges of the Territorial Court.

FLORIDA.

WILLIAM P. DUVAL, Governor. GEORGE WALTON, Secretary.

By the act of Congress, of March 30th, 1822, it is ordained that East and West Florida, as ceded by Spain, shall constitute the Territory of Florida.

By the same law, the Executive Power is vested in a Governor, to hold his office for three years, unless sooner removed. The Governor to be Commander in Chief of the Militia, Superintendent of Indian Affairs ex officio, to have the power of pardoning offences against the Territory, and Reprieves for those against the United States until the decision of the President; to appoint Çivil and Militia Officers not otherwise provided for, and to take care that the Laws be faithfully executed.

A Secretary of the Territory, to hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed. He is to record and preserve Executive Papers and Proceedings, the Acts of the Governor and Legislative Council, and to transmit Copies of the Proceedings of the Executive Department, every six months, to the President.

In case of the death, removal, &c. of the Governor, the Secretary is to act as Governor during the vacancy.

The Legislative Power vested in the Governor and a Legislative Council of thirteen, to be appointed annually by the President and Senate. The Governor and Legislative Council may alter, modify, or repeal, the laws in force. No Law valid inconsistent with the Constitution and Laws of the Union, or with free exercise of Religion. The Governor to publish all the territorial Laws, and report them to the President, on or before the first of December, annually, to be laid before Congress, &c .-The territorial Legislature to have no power over the original disposal of the soil, not to tax Public Lands, nor interfere with Land Claims. The Legislative Council to hold a session once a year, commencing on the second Monday of June, 1822, at Pensacola, for two months; and thereafter on the first Monday in May, yearly, to continue four weeks, at such place as the Governor and Council direct. The Governor to collect information of the customs, dispositions, &c. of the inhabitants, and communicate it to the President.

The Judicial Power vested in two Superior Courts, one for East, and the other for West, Florida, to consist, each, of one Judge; the Courts to be held at St. Augustine and Pensacola; to have jurisdiction in all criminal cases, exclusive jurisdiction in all capital cases, and original jurisdiction in all civil cases of one hundred dollars value, under the laws of the Territory.—Each Judge to appoint a Clerk, and the Clerks to reside and keep the records, respectively, at St. Augustine and Pensacola, and to receive such fees as may be established by the Legislative Council The Legislative Council may establish inferior Courts and Justices of the Peace.

The Superior Courts have jurisdiction, under the constitution and laws of the Union, as the District Court of Kentucky under the Act of 24th September, 1789, and the Act of 2d March, 1793. Writs of error and appeal from the Superior Courts, under this section, to be made to the Supreme Court of the United States, as from the Circuit Courts. The Clerks to keep the records where the Courts are held, and to receive the same circuit and district court fees as the clerk of the Kentucky District. Two Attorneys for the United States to be appointed, and 200 dollars per annum to be paid to each of them in addition to stated fees. Two Marshals each to receive 200 dollars annually, besides fees.

The Governor, Secretary, Judges, Attorneys, Marshals, and General Officers of the Militia, to be appointed by the President and Senate. Judicial Officers to hold their places for four years. All Officers to take an oath, &c. before they enter upon their duties. Annual Salary of the Governor 2,500 dollars; Secretary 1,500; Judges 1,500 dollars each, payable quarter yearly.—Three dollars per day to each Member of the Legislative Council, and three dollars for each twenty miles travel. Members of the Council privileged from arrest, except for treason, felony, and breach of the peace, in going to, returning from, and attending at, each session.

Various Laws of the United States, specifically and generally extended to, and declared to have full force and effect in the Territory of Florida.

The inhabitants of Florida secured in the liberty of Conscience, entitled to the benefit of the writ of habeas corpus, and bailable, except for capital offences; fines to be moderate, and proportioned to offences; no excessive bail, nor cruel and unusual punishments; no ex post facto law, nor law impairing contracts; and private property not to be taken for public uses without compensation.

Free male white persons, housekeepers, residents for a year, may serve as jurors in Courts, to be selected as the judges prescribe.

Slaves not be brought into the Territory, under a penalty of 300 dollars; and slaves imported entitled to freedom.

The laws in force in Florida, not inconsistent with this Act, to continue until altered, modified, or repealed.

The Citizens of the Territory entitled to one Delegate in Congress, to be elected by such description of persons, &c. as the Governor and Council may ordain.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

[As the offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue, and Direct Tax cease on the settlement of their accounts, it was expected that, during the year 1823, their accounts would have been brought so near to a close, as to render a continuance of this head, in the Calendar, unnecessary. But as a number of accounts still remain open on the books of the Treasury, it has been deemed necessary to insert the list.

Several persons are included in the following list, as Collectors, who are dead. But, as their places have not been supplied by any other appointment, and their accounts being placed in a train of adjustment, by their administrators, it has been deemed proper to continue the name of the Collector.

The emoluments of Collectors are six per cent. upon all moneys collected, and actually paid into the Treasury. But by the Act of December 23d, 1817, the President is authorized, should he deem it expedient, to make a further allowance, not exceeding five per cent. This provision was made in the law to afford Collectors a just compensation for collecting the many small and scattered balances, that might remain due, and for collecting which, the six per cent allowed by the previous law, should not be considered a reasonable remuneration.

The superintendence of this branch of the public business is confided to the 5th Auditor.

Public Ministers, &c... From France, &c.

FOREIGN MINISTERS, CONSULS AND AGENTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Few changes have taken place in the Foreign Legations near the Government of the United States, during the year 1823.

No Minister has been sent from France. The Count de Menou remains Charge des Aflaires from that Court, and M. d'Espinville has been attached to the Legation.

The Right Hon. Stratford Canning, the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Great Britain, is at present, absent from the United States on leave. Henry Unwin Addington, Esq. the Secretary of Legation, is Charge des Affairs, ad interim, and Henry Headly Parish, Esq. is attached to the Legation.

Baron de Tuyll, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, &c. from Russia, arrived in this country soon after the publication of the Calendar for 1923. George d' Ellisen, College Counsellor, is the Counsellor of Legation; Baron Francis de Maltitz (Assesseur de College,) Secretary of Legation; and Julius de Wallenstein, Aulic Counsellor, attached to the Legation. An additional Vice Consul has been appointed by this government, to reside at Pensacola.

From Spain, two additional Consuls have been appointed, one to reside at Pensacola, the other at St. Augustine.

From Portugal, Austria, Prussia, Hamburg, Denmark, and Sweden, no change has been made.

From the Netherlands, J. J. Hoogworff, has been appointed Consul for Maryland.

From Sardinia, Emanuel Valdor has been appointed Vice Consul for Maryland, and Joseph Auze Vice Consul for Georgia.

Tuscany and Mexico remain the same as last year.

From Colombia, Jose Leandro Palacios, is appointed Consul General, to reside at Philadelphia. Don S. M. Salazar, is here, on a mission from that Republic.

From Świtzerland two Consuls have been appointed: one for New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Missouri, and for all the States and Territories north of the river Ohio, and east of the Hudson. The other for the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, and for all the States and Territories south of Missouri, the Ohio and Delaware.

A Consul has also been appointed by the Duke of Mecklenburg

Swerin, who resides in the District of Columbia,

From France and Great Britain.
